FAIRMONT Goodwill Store

Where?

The Fairmont Store recently moved to a new site next to the mall where the previous store was located. The store is neighbor to Arby's, Taco Bell, Applebees, Fairfield Inn and the Fairmont General Health Plex. A new housing development is located behind the building.

When?

The old location in the Middletown Mall opened in the Fall of 1999, and the new location celebrated the grand re-opening on September 21, 2011.

Who?

The manager, Cheryl Chrislip, has been with Goodwill for 11 years. Four full-time and 13 part-time employees make up this team of hard workers. Many clients and volunteers help at the store daily, including two very special seniors from the local High School.

Donations?

When a Goodwill attended donation center was located at the Middletown Mall, the trailer had to be changed out every other day due to the high volume of donations. Therefore, donations at the Fairmont Store are expected to pick up as time goes by.

Interesting Facts:

Across the main highway, off of Industrial Park Road, is the new Technology Park which is home to NASA and Global Science Buildings. In the near future a Division of NOA will also call the Technology Park home. This has been a big boost to Fairmont's economy.

Why is it successful?

The customers and employees love the new store. Sales have grown with the new look and location. The biggest areas of sale are the wares and women's sections. And furniture goes out the door as fast as it comes in, selling as it hits the floor.
