

Unacceptable Donations

Goodwill regrets that we must refuse certain types of donations due to safety regulations issued by the Consumer Product Safety Commission. These regulations prohibit us from accepting many items considered unsafe. We also must decline items which have proven to be too costly to handle, are too difficult to resell, or cannot be repaired as required by law. Sorry for any inconveniences.

Infant, Toddler, Children

Baby Cribs
Car seats for infants/children
Playpens
Baby walkers
Accordion style baby gates
Bunk beds
Bean bag chairs

Appliances, Furniture, Housewares

All major appliances
Hot water heaters
Propane heaters
Gas appliance of any kind
Oil stove
Household trash or raw sewage
Lamps without a polarized plug
Furniture that is ripped, stained
Mattresses & box springs
Regular, Venetian or mini blinds
Water beds or metal beds (except Brass)
Custom-made traverse rods and curtain hardware
Bathroom fixtures
Wire hangers
Electric blankets
Hair dryers without large rectangular safety plug
Live plants or animals, fish, birds, etc
Broken computer monitors

Miscellaneous

Automobile/truck parts of any kind
(tires, wiper blades, brakes)
Building materials
(bricks, concrete, stones, wood)
Storm windows and storm doors
Outdoor swing sets
Iron mangles
Newspapers
Used carpet padding, dry rot rugs, or stained rugs
55 gallon steel drums (full or empty)
Hospital beds
Beauty shop equipment
Chemicals of any kind (engine oil)

Sporting Goods

Firearms & ammunition
Safety helmets (used)

Items Containing Mercury

Medical devices such as thermometers and blood pressure units
Thermostats, barometers, and other pressure-sensing instruments
Batteries for small electronic devices
Mercury-containing bulbs including:
Fluorescent and energy-saving light bulbs;
outdoor lighting
Bug zappers, tanning bulbs, black lights, germicidal bulbs, high output bulbs, neon bulbs, compact fluorescent bulbs, and cold-cathode fluorescent bulbs

Furniture and Computers are to be taken to the nearest store

Unacceptable Donations

Goodwill regrets that we must refuse certain types of donations due to safety regulations issued by the Consumer Product Safety Commission. These regulations prohibit us from accepting many items considered unsafe. We also must decline items which have proven to be too costly to handle, are too difficult to resell, or cannot be repaired as required by law. Sorry for any inconveniences.

Infant, Toddler, Children

Baby Cribs
Car seats for infants/children
Playpens
Baby walkers
Accordion style baby gates
Bunk beds
Bean bag chairs

Appliances, Furniture, Housewares

All major appliances
Hot water heaters
Propane heaters
Gas appliance of any kind
Oil stove
Household trash or raw sewage
Lamps without a polarized plug
Furniture that is ripped, stained
Mattresses & box springs
Regular, Venetian or mini blinds
Water beds or metal beds (except Brass)
Custom-made traverse rods and curtain hardware
Bathroom fixtures
Wire hangers
Electric blankets
Hair dryers without large rectangular safety plug
Live plants or animals, fish, birds, etc
Broken computer monitors

Miscellaneous

Automobile/truck parts of any kind
(tires, wiper blades, brakes)
Building materials
(bricks, concrete, stones, wood)
Storm windows and storm doors
Outdoor swing sets
Iron mangles
Newspapers
Used carpet padding, dry rot rugs, or stained rugs
55 gallon steel drums (full or empty)
Hospital beds
Beauty shop equipment
Chemicals of any kind (engine oil)

Sporting Goods

Firearms & ammunition
Safety helmets (used)

Items Containing Mercury

Medical devices such as thermometers and blood pressure units
Thermostats, barometers, and other pressure-sensing instruments
Batteries for small electronic devices
Mercury-containing bulbs including:
Fluorescent and energy-saving light bulbs;
outdoor lighting
Bug zappers, tanning bulbs, black lights, germicidal bulbs, high output bulbs, neon bulbs, compact fluorescent bulbs, and cold-cathode fluorescent bulbs

Furniture and Computers are to be taken to the nearest store